

A Year of Collaboration

The choir has worked diligently to develop the boys through its values of service, mentorship, and comraderie. With the success the choir has seen, it is now embarking on a program of collaboration to put into practice what the boys have learnt; musically and intrinsically. This year, the choir will be working with GPRC's voice instructor Dr. Tina Alexander, Pro Coro Canada's artistic director Michael Zaugg, and the Toronto Children's Chorus' artistic director Elise Bradley. Additionally, the Senior and Men of Note boys will be travelling to Vancouver and will have a chance to collaborate with the Vancouver Children's Choir under the direction of Rupert Lang. It is through these collaborations that our organization is strengthened and the boys are able to gain valuable musical experience. These projects encourage
